

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

[0047] An ornamental for a hat type visor made of a fairly rigid material, such as metal or plastic that expands as the edge of a hat type visor is slipped into a void defined by two ornamental end members, one gripping the top surface of a hat type visor and another gripping the bottom of the same hat type visor that is removable, has interchangeable ornaments, is linkable, is reversible, and is adaptable to accept modified lapel pin type emblems so as to not puncture or glue to the surface of a hat type visor.
